

HEADTEACHER'S MESSAGE

Dear parents/carers

As you may know one of our school improvement priorities this year is to improve children's reading enjoyment and in doing so improve their reading skills, vocabulary and general knowledge.

To make sure we are on track we measure our progress in a number of ways through visiting lessons and looking at teaching; by talking to children; by inviting external professionals and by collecting performance data.

This week year group and senior leaders visited reading lessons to track the progress of improvement so far this term. As a result I can tell you class reading lessons are of a very high standard, children read ambitious texts and answer questions that make them think hard about ideas and words in the text.

Thank you for making sure your children are reading daily at home. Developing this good habit AND the habit of reading with curiosity will make them successful in school and life.
