

HEADTEACHER'S MESSAGE

Dear parents/Carers

Dear Parents

BRRRR! That was a cold end to the week and although no snow is currently forecast for next week IT WILL BE COLD.

PLEASE send children to school with (named) hats, scarfs, gloves and windproof, warm coats. Children do go outside unless it is torrential rain to develop their resilience and also to give them some fresh air.

As you can see from the photos children have loved playing outside in the snow with their friends and will no doubt remember the experience for a long time.

We have special science workshops to look forward to next week – these are “an extra” so please help us with our budget by bringing in your £2.50 ;

Have a good, safe and warm weekend

Laura Wynne
Head teacher

Sold Out!! A Celebration of Reading

At Kingsbury Green this week, we were able to beat the snow and celebrate books and reading despite the cold weather.

On Tuesday, the children were captivated with Chitra Soundar's amazing adventures of Prince Veera. We were treated to the age old art of oral storytelling, and DD Everest gave the children in KS2 Five top tips for good writing. A huge thank you to parents who supported this event, with a few exceptions almost all of the books were sold out.
